Pakistan File and Intime news are Islamabad news paper and news Agency start last year and already made there name in media with good work. We are going to start this news paper in Dublin in English soon. Dublin Community Television (DCTV) is Ireland's newest TV broadcaster, having secured a 10-year Community Licence from the Broadcasting Authority of Ireland. It is run by a co-operative and Dublin's only community TV station. With offices in the Digital Hub, DCTV has plans to base small-scale production facilities around the city, making video and television production and transmission as accessible as possible. Using new, low-cost, all-digital technology, DCTV is part of a global growth in alternative, community-focused media. The organisation itself is an open membership cooperative, with schedules, programme commissioning and all other decisions being driven by members. There is no standard advertising: instead the channel has a number of innovative revenue models supporting the very low-cost operation of the station – it is an important principle that DCTV should not become dependent on any single source of income. In the future we will be looking at sponsorship deals with appropriate organisations.
